

Ed McGivern

Speaker Bio:

Geoff graduated from the University of Glamorgan in the UK, with an honors degree in Mathematics and Computing, majoring in High Performance Network Design.

Geoff enjoys exploring the US on motorcycles and functions as West Coast account and business development manager when he's not on two wheels.

Prior to this, Geoff was a product manager with Snell & Wilcox and a founding member of Amberfin.

Geoff relocated from the UK to southern California in 2007, admittedly mostly for the weather. After returning to Snell as lead architect for emerging software technologies he lived on the bleeding edge of virtualization, migration to cloud and the transition from SDI to the ST2110 IP standard. He'd rather be on a motorbike.
